THE SPOON FIGHT IS A TRUE SCRAP

The Dragons receive a narrow edge from healthier availability and the confidence of a major upset, but Wests Tigers' home context and stronger season spine make this another low-confidence decision.

HOW THIS MATCH COULD UNFOLD / WHAT COULD BREAK THE TIP

This is the second coin-flip game of the round. Wests Tigers are fresher after the bye and still rate slightly better in spine and middle, but their recent-form line is poor and the named side remains without several senior organisers. The Dragons earned a substantial confidence lift by beating Cronulla 24-16 and bring the steadier current availability through Damien Cook, Clint Gutherson and Valentine Holmes. Their season-long attack remains the competition's weakest, so one upset cannot erase the wider record. The numerical gap is small and CommBank Stadium helps the Tigers, but the Dragons have the clearer route to controlled sets and fewer immediate combination questions. Dragons by 2, with confidence capped at the low setting.
